

2011 Workplace Excellence Awards

November 10, 2011 - Home Start is pleased to announce that it has been named a prestigious medallion award winner from the San Diego Society for Human Resource Management for Workplace Excellence. On November 9, 2011 the 2011 Workplace Excellence Awards were held “the Oscar’s of Human Resources” to underscore the importance of effective HR leadership to the successful performance of organizations.

The Workplace Excellence Award process starts with the nomination of a company, followed by a detailed application process highlighting a particular human resources practice. The application also requires a statement by the company’s Chief Executive Officer as to how that practice has impacted the overall success of the organization. A panel of distinguished judges then reviews the applications, and selects the top two winners in each of four company-size categories.

Over 60 businesses in San Diego were nominated but only 34 received the medallion awards. Home Start was the only social services agency to receive an award. Our many thanks to the tireless efforts of Home Start’s Director of Human Resources, Glenda Maxwell, PHR, our CEO Laura Mustari, LCSW and the vision of our Board of Directors for positioning Home Start as an employer of choice for our dedicated staff.
